The Countertop with a Conscience™

TorZo SURFACES

BARK HOUSE, inspired by nature, handcrafts beautiful panels laminated with recycled tree bark. The panels are made from reclaimed by-products of the timber industry. They express a rich heritage of artisan craftsmanship and form an authentic connection between nature, individuals, and the built environment.

DURAT is a unique ecological solid surface material made with up to 30% recycled hard plastics. Durat is 100% recyclable, durable, and easy to maintain.

elementAl takes post-consumer waste and turns it into a stunning, easily machined surface that not only performs well, but offers a seamless solution to an industry problem. The elementAl collection is comprised of 82% recycled metal and recycled acrylic and the elementAl LIGHT collection is comprised of 93% recycled acrylic.

GĒOS is made from a mix of pre-consumer and post-consumer recycled glass and a low VOC resin binder, which create a non-porous, durable material that performs like engineered stone.

KOSKISEN manufactures Finnish birch plywood panels with a coating of translucent color on both sides. Both sides are then overlaid with a transparent film making it durable and easy to clean, while still emphasizing the wood's natural grain.

ORGNOB combines natural materials with an ecological binding agent. Using a careful pressing process, they create high pressure laminates that are practically emissions-free and allergy tested.

PaperStone is a beautiful, durable, and contemporary modern surface made from 100% post-consumer recycled paper and a proprietary, petroleum-free resin. It is highly resistant to scratching, staining, and chemicals. PaperStone is available as a solid surface material as well as CoverPly, a Baltic Birch plywood core with PaperStone panels overlaid on both sides.

TorZo manufactures sustainable surfaces that are ideal for high wear residential and commercial applications. TorZo uses rapidly renewable, recycled, and raw materials to produce their sustainable sheet products. TorZo substrates are made up of recycled wheat, sorghum, hemp, and wood and Infused with an acrylic resin.
